David Vision—Bio

Award winning children's book author David Vision used his professional and personal life experiences to transition into a successful children's book author, songwriter and producer. David and his wife Mutiya have collaborated to write and publish 10 children's book that entertain, raise the human spirit and strengthens the mental development in children of all ages. As a result, Vision Works Publishing is a growing children's book press which produces a unique line of hard cover concept picture books.

In 1990 David's 12 year career as a Director of Contracts for the Department of Defense abruptly ended when he was hit by a speeding armored truck and survived. David was challenged to reevaluate his future. During his rehabilitation, he would conger up stories to entertain and spend quality time with his children. The stories sparked David's creative genesis. In addition to writing children's books, he began to write and produce songs with his children.

David served in the Army as a paratrooper in the 82nd Airborne Division during the Vietnam War. After being honorably discharged, he fulfilled a promise made to his mother, by earning a Bachelors Degree in Business Administration from the Metropolitan College of New York were he graduated Summa Cum Lada. David is an enthusiastic father to seven children and resides in Brooklyn, New York with his wife and business partner Mutiya.
